WAR OFFICE EXPENSES CUT MANY MILLIONS

Estimates Prepared by Secretary Root.

COVERS ALL THE BRANCHES

Secretary Gives Special Attention to Proposed Appropriation for Year Ending June 30, 1904.

The Secretary of War has given special attention to the estimates of the War Department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1904. They show a net decrease of $31,420,900.84 in the amounts asked for under all the different appropriations subject to the control of the War Department, as compared with the estimates for 1903, and a net decrease of $20,947,900.35 as compared with the amounts appropriated for the current fiscal year.

The War Department appropriations fall under four general heads: "Civil Establishment," "Military Establishment," "Public Works," and "Miscellaneous."

The "Civil Establishment" relates entirely to expenses in Washington and covers the salaries for the clerical force, contingent expenses, rent, postage, etc. Under this head there have been reductions in the estimates for 1904 of $57,470.

Decrease in Clerks.

For the last five fiscal years Congress has appropriated a gross sum of $600,000 annually for a temporary force for the War Department, rendered necessary by the increase in the work incident to the war with Spain, and the events following it. The last legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill provided for the classification of the temporary force.

In the estimates now submitted the regular force and the temporary force have been amalgamated, and the amount asked for these combined forces is nearly $50,000 less than the total appropriations for the regular and temporary forces for the current fiscal year. It is the purpose of the department to meet this reduction in force by omitting to fill vacancies occasioned by deaths, resignations, and other casualties that occur from now until the beginning of the next fiscal year. It is probable that the number of such casualties will more than equal the decrease in the number of clerical positions for which estimates are submitted.

The Military Establishment.

The appropriations under the head of "Military Establishment" embrace all items for the support of the army and the Military Academy. The estimates for the military establishment show a net reduction of $21,862,921.10 from the estimates for 1903, and a net reduction of $14,297,119.54 from the total amount appropriated under this head for the present fiscal year.

An increased appropriation will be required in order to provide a full year's supply of clothing and equipment during the next fiscal year. By most careful supervision the department has been gradually absorbing the surplus stock created by the Spanish-American war, and it is anticipated that this absorption will be completed by the end of the present fiscal year.

Increase for West Point.

An increase provided for the Military Academy is simply the increase of pay which results from the increased number of cadets at West Point in consequence of recent legislation.

The estimates under the head of "Public Works" show a net reduction of $9,728,770.37 as compared with the estimates for 1903, and of $6,407,058.91 as compared with the amounts appropriated for 1903. The more important items embraced in the appropriations that come under this general head are river and harbor improvements, the various appropriations for fortifications and seacoast defenses and military posts, including the buildings and grounds at the Military Academy; and buildings and grounds in Washington, D. C.

The general head "Miscellaneous" comprehends all appropriations for the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, national cemeteries, artificial limbs and appliances, and all other miscellaneous items that do not naturally fall under the three general heads above mentioned. There is an increase in the estimates for 1904, as compared with the estimates for 1903, of $207,887.72, which is due in the main to increased appropriations asked for by the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers. The estimates for 1904, however, show a net reduction as compared with the amounts appropriated for 1903, of $130,431.50.

Large Reductions Shown.

There is an actual reduction in the estimates for the "Military Establishment" for 1904, as compared with the estimates for 1903, of about $22,000,000, and an actual reduction as compared with the amounts appropriated for 1903 of more than $14,000,000; and that the estimates for 1904 for "Public Works" are nearly $10,000,000 less than the estimates for 1903, and are nearly $6,500,000 less than the amounts appropriated for the current fiscal year. The estimates for the "Civil Establishment" and "Miscellaneous" for 1904 show an increase over the estimates for 1903 of about $180,000, but they are nearly a $250,000 less than the amounts appropriated for 1903.

Excluding river and harbor improvements, the estimates for the War Department for each of the last five fiscal years show an average annual decrease from the estimates of the previous year of about $44,500,000.

PEACE IN COLOMBIA; THE TERMS SIGNED

Theater of Negotiations American Battleship Wisconsin, Says Admiral Casey.

Admiral Silas Casey, U. S. N., commanding the United States naval forces in Colombian waters, today notified the Navy Department of the termination of civil war in the United States of Colombia.

Terms of peace have been signed by the representatives of the two factions and have been approved.

Admiral Casey's dispatch to the Navy Department follows:

"Panama, Nov. 22.—Conference ended today on board the battleship Wisconsin between Salazar (governor of Panama) and Herrera (chief general of the insurgent forces) in signing terms of peace approved by Perdomo (minister of war for the Colombian government), thus ending war in Colombia.

A similar dispatch was received by the State Department from Consul General Gudgeon at Panama. It is expected that the warring factions will now rearrange the election districts of Colombia and that the government will order an election of members of congress.

Great credit is due to Admiral Casey, the Navy Department says, for bringing together on his flagship the representatives of the government and insurgent forces. Through his efforts the war has been ended and open traffic across the isthmus assured.

The ending of the war is regarded as of the utmost importance by the Government because of its bearing on the canal negotiations with Colombia, which have been somewhat strained in the past few weeks. One reason for this friction was the active part taken by the American naval forces in guarding the isthmian railway. At one time the Colombian government gave unmistakable evidence of its displeasure at the American attitude.

KRUPP, OF GUN FAME, PASSES AWAY TODAY

Famous Magnate Dies at Essen, His Home.

RICHEST MAN IN GERMANY

Annual Income Estimated to Be Between Five and Six Million Dollars.

BERLIN, Nov. 22.—Friedrich Alfred Krupp, the great ironmaster, died suddenly at his villa near Essen today.

Long ago Mr. Krupp, or Baron Krupp, as he is now known, was by the far the wealthiest man in Germany, and his estimated income was between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000.

He inherited a struggling steel business, invented a famous gun, became the armorer of the world, and made the name of Essen famous as one of the biggest industrial centers of its own peculiar kind upon earth. Wherever there are ships or fortifications there are to be found the Krupp cannon—that is to say, except in France, the one country which Krupp would not supply.

Ever since the Franco-German war he had been looking forward to the possibility of a war of revenge, and he vowed that he would never put weapons into the hands of an avowed enemy of his country.

There are processes in the Krupp manufacture and manipulation of steel that are not known in the trade today, and they are carried on in buildings that no visitor or employee who does not work in them is permitted to enter.

DESPERADOES HOLD UP CHICAGO TROLLEY CAR

Attack Two Passengers and After Relieving Them of Their Valuables, Administer Severe Beating.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—South Side police are in search of a gang of hold-up men. They boarded a Wentworth Avenue electric car, stopped it, and attacked Valentine Simon and Leo Reynolds, dragged them from the car and took from Simon a $100 diamond pin and a small sum of money from Reynolds.

They then beat the two men into insensibility. The thieves made good their escape.

"GIVE ME LIBERTY OR GIVE ME DEATH," SAYS WILCOX

Suspected Murderer of Nellie Cropsey Will Not Be Content With Second Degree Verdict.

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C., Nov. 22.—A fellow prisoner yesterday asked James Wilcox, who has been granted a new trial on the charge of the murder of Nellie Cropsey, if he would be content with a verdict of murder in the second degree. He said: "Give me liberty or give me death." The superior court will today name the place where the new trial will be held.

JOHN HAYES PLACED UNDER BOND OF $500 TODAY

In the Supreme Court of the District today Chief Justice Bingham fixed the bond of John Hayes at $500, he to abide by the result of his appeal to the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia.

Hayes is wanted by the officials of Prince George county, Md., to answer an indictment charging him with violating the gaming law at Chesapeake Junction. When taken into custody by the District authorities Hayes sought to secure his release through habeas corpus proceedings.

LAST DAY OF NEW YORK'S GREATEST HORSE SHOW

Program Replete With Brilliant Entries.

HUNTER CLASS THE FEATURE

Battle Royal in Polo Pony Class Between "Reggie" Vanderbilt and Kinson Gould.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The program for the last day of the present Horse Show, which passes into history at 11 o'clock tonight, was as varied and attractive as the directors could possibly make it.

It provided for displays of Shetland stallions, ponies under saddle, horses of the street cleaning department, cavalry horses, harness teams, roadsters, and jumpers and polo ponies, and as a grand climax a prize for the best qualified hunter in the show. With the awarding of the latter prize, the eighteenth annual exhibition of the National Horse Show Association of America comes to an end.

The main tussle at the Horse Show last night occurred in the polo class, and was between the two Vanderbilts and the two Goulds, Jay and Kingston. The usual Vanderbilt luck continued, and Reggie Vanderbilt, for the first time during the show received the yellow ribbon, being beaten out by Kingston Gould, who captured the blue decoration, and Jay, who won the red. It was a beautiful fight, all the riders putting their ponies to their utmost.

Mrs. George Gould, the boys' mother, sat in the box of James H. Hyde and cheered her sons as best she could.

Old James R. Purcell, the veteran exhibitor from Virginia, was a contestant, and seated on his Honey Bee the old man presented a strange appearance, riding around the ring, his long white beard waving in the breeze. He was easily outclassed, but nevertheless received a hearty round of applause.

Harry Payne Whitney, another sufferer of the "Vanderbilt luck," obtained his first blue ribbon last night in the class for pairs to a Stanhope or demil-moile.

NEGOTIATIONS OPENED FOR NICARAGUAN ROUTE

Secretary Hay to Make Tentative Agreement.

In consequence of the attitude of the Colombian government with regard to the terms of the treaty to grant the United States the right to construct the Panama Canal, Secretary Hay, by direction of the President, has begun informal negotiations with the governments of Nicaragua and Costa Rica, which have for their object the conclusion of a tentative canal treaty to be submitted to the Senate if the Colombian government does not show a more liberal disposition.

Mr. Hay has had conferences on the subject with Senor Corea, the minister of Nicaragua, and Senor Calvo, the minister of Costa Rica. He was closed for a long time in the diplomatic reception room of the State Department today.

The negotiations with Nicaragua must necessarily be regarded as informal, but they are of quite as serious a character as those with Colombia.

There has been no change in the virtual deadlock that has been caused in the Panama negotiations by the declaration of the Colombian government to grant the United States complete control over the territory through which it is proposed to dig the canal. Just what effect, if any, the ending of the civil war in Colombia will have on the canal negotiations is not known to officials here who are frank in saying that the uncertainty of the Colombian authorities makes it useless to guess on the subject.

OUR INADEQUATE NAVY COURTS HUMILIATION

—Commander Niblack.

No Hope of Luck of War With Spain Next Time.

MANY CRUISERS ONLY JUNK

More Ships and More Officers and Men Imperatively Needed—The Fatal Mistake of Congress.

The sensational comments on the American navy made by Lieutenant Commander A. P. Niblack at the tenth annual meeting of the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers in New York yesterday were the subject of much discussion at the Navy Department today. It is said that Commander Niblack expressed the views of naval officers generally.

In referring to the need of more ships, Commander Niblack said: "Such ships as we improvised in the war with Spain will not answer in the next war. It is to be regretted that we have not a regular building program of battleships, but that is hoping for too much foresight."

Commander Niblack spoke briefly of the part the navy took in the war with Tripoli, the war of 1812, and the civil war. He said the work of the navy is not in the least understood by the country at large. He spoke of the disposition which he said exists in Congress and in the country at large to let up on naval expansion. "History," he said, "teaches the folly of such a course, and reason tells us that we are courting humiliation."

"A good many of the so-called cruisers on our list are little better than junk for our purposes, and they should be replaced by ships designed for scouting and auxiliary purposes. It is only by luck or by indifference that a modern battleship can sink another by gun fire alone. We need not in the future expect to set ships on fire by gun fire, as at Santiago or Manila, and, indeed, we have a long way to go before we can expect to achieve victories over our next adversary. This is a warning and not a prophecy."

Commander Niblack also urged the necessity for more officers and men for the navy.

TROLLEY CAR STRIKER INDICTED FOR RIOTING

Twenty-four Others to Be Given Separate Trials.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Nov. 22.—In the Saratoga county court Abner E. Brockway, of Mechanicville, one of the twenty-five indicted for riotous demonstrations in connection with the recent strike on the Hudson Valley Railway, has been found guilty and will be sentenced on Monday. The verdict of the jury has in a measure tended to create another panic among the twenty-four others, all of whom are to have separate trials.

Howard Osgood, of Stillwater, the motorman on the Hudson Valley Railway whose discharge led to the recent strike on that road, is reported to have been reinstated by General Manager B. S. Josselyn and will resume work on Monday next.

ST. MATTHEW'S OLD SITE STILL IN THE MARKET

Fuller Company Not Negotiating for Property.

The report that the Fuller Company had renewed negotiations for the purchase of the site at the corner of Fifteenth and H Streets northwest, opposite the Shoreham Hotel, on which stands old St. Matthew's Church, was denied this afternoon by Father Thomas S. Lee, rector of the parish.

Father Lee stated that the offer of $400,000 for the property was originally made about three years ago, when it was offered to pay off the mortgage of $160,000 on the property, and after paying a mortgage of $500,000 on the land and big hotel which it was proposed to erect to give the church a second mortgage, covering the remainder of the purchase price. This offer was promptly refused, as in case of failure of the enterprise the church people would have to buy in the first mortgage to protect themselves.

A few months past a representative of the Fuller company submitted another proposition to Father Lee on the basis of $400,000 for the property, but its terms were less advantageous than the first offer. An offer of $125,000 was submitted by Thomas Walsh, the Colorado mining king, at one time, but was afterward withdrawn. Recently several other parties have entered into negotiations for the property, but as yet nothing definite has been accomplished.

STRIKE COMMISSION TAKES ADJOURNMENT

No More Sessions Until December 3.

CONFERENCE ARRANGED FOR

Operators and Mine Workers to Confer and Some Form of Agreement May Be Then Reached.

SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 22.—The strike commission adjourned this morning to meet again in this city on December 3.

In the meantime the operators and the mine workers will try to reach, at conferences which are to be held, an agreement about the questions at issue. Each side is willing.

Attorneys for the operators informed the commission that while not opposing conciliatory measures, they desired that the commission make a full report upon the questions at issue so that it would form a permanent basis of settlement of all disputes between the operators and the mine workers in this region.

When the commission convened this morning Attorney Barrow, for the mine workers, said: "We have acted upon the suggestion made by the commission yesterday and are ready to meet with the attorneys of the other side to discuss the questions before the commission. We are hopeful that some settlement can be reached. Under the circumstances, and in order to allow us to prepare tables of wages to submit to the commission, we deem it advisable to ask for an adjournment to December 3. We have the greatest confidence in the good which will come from the meeting in the meantime."

Judge Gray said: "We have heard of the satisfaction with which the suggestion of yesterday has been received. Our duty is to hear the questions which are before us and pass upon them, but we are also a commission of conciliation."

"The suggestion," he said, "was made quite independently of making any agreement regarding questions which are not before this commission."

DEPARTMENT AWAITS HUNTER'S EXPLANATION

Has Not Yet Been Notified of Murder.

After further consideration today of the case of W. Godfrey Hunter, Jr., son of the United States minister to Guatemala, who took refuge in his father's legation yesterday after shooting and killing William A. Fitzgerald, the State Department officials decided to adhere to the policy adopted last night of not taking any action in the matter or notice of it until advice was received from Minister Hunter or the Guatemalan government formally making complaint.

It was said at the department today that if the Guatemalan government desires to arrest young Hunter the proper course for it to pursue would be to present a warrant at the legation, and if Minister Hunter declined to surrender his son, to enter complaint with this Government through the Guatemalan minister here. This would give the State Department a basis for the consideration of the questions involved.

Not a word has come since the receipt of Consul General McNally's telegram telling Secretary of State Taft and young Hunter's father that the legation official roof. It is expected that the minister is virtually in a state of confusion and unable to communicate with the telegraph office of the State Department is anxious to get a word from the fair but does not feel inclined to ask for them at this time.

IS CONSIDERED HOPELESS

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 22.—The condition of the Czaritch of Russia, who has been dangerously ill for some weeks past, is now regarded as hopeless.

Dr. Hulan, of New York, who has been in consultation with the court physicians, agrees with them that medicine is useless. As a final resort, the royal patient will be sent to the Crimea in the hope that the bracing air there will prove beneficial.

PRESIDENT WELCOMED BY THE QUAKER CITY

LUNCHEON WITH MR. SMITH

Address to Boys at High School Dedication—The Union League Club Banquet Tonight.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22.—President Roosevelt and members of his Cabinet came to Philadelphia today for the twofold purpose of participating in the dedication of the new building of the Central High School and attending the annual Founders' Day banquet at the Union League. In addition to these two public appearances, the distinguished visitors were the guests of ex-Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith, at his residence, and also of Mr. Edward T. Stotesbury, vice president of the Union League. The President and his party left Washington this morning at 8:20 on a special train over the Pennsylvania Railroad that arrived at Broad Street station at 11:35. The party comprised President Roosevelt, Secretaries Shaw, Hitchcock and Wilson and Postmaster General Payne.

President Joseph Darlington and Vice President William B. Van Lennep, of the Union League, boarded the special train at Wilmington, and upon its arrival here introduced the President and members of his party to the guest committee, comprising Hon. Dinner Beeber, Robert C. Lippincott, ex-Mayor Edwin S. Stuart, and Henry E. Garsed.

The start for the high school was then made. The day was a gala one for the 1,700 students of the school, all of whom took part in the program. Though denied admission to the assembly room, owing to the lack of seating capacity, the boys were good-humored and played their part well. The entire building was gayly decorated.

Everyone in the assembly room arose and the orchestra played "The Stars and Stripes Forever" as the President's party arrived and the President advanced down the long aisle to the platform. To reach the building Mr. Roosevelt passed through a mob of 1,500 students, each waving an American flag and cheering like mad. It was considerably after noon before the President began his oration.

On leaving the high school President Roosevelt and members of his party were driven to the residence of Charles Emory Smith, where luncheon was taken about 1:30 o'clock.

About 3 o'clock the President will attend a reception at the residence of Edward T. Stotesbury. The reception at the residence of Mr. Stotesbury will necessarily be limited by invitation. About 200 invitations have been sent out. After the reception, which will terminate about 4 o'clock, the President will rest at the home of Mr. Stotesbury until 6 o'clock, when he will be driven to the Union League for the banquet.

The Union League celebration of Founders' Day with a banquet will partake of a national character, for Cabinet officers, men high in the army and navy and distinguished civilians are among the guests. There will be toasts and speeches to be led by the President, who will respond to utterances of hearty welcome from Joseph G. Darlington, president of the Union League.

CZARWITCH'S CONDITION

Dr. Hulan, of New York, who has been in consultation with the court physicians, agrees with them that medicine is useless. As a final resort, the royal patient will be sent to the Crimea in the hope that the bracing air there will prove beneficial.

Great Struggle Anticipated on Yale Field This Afternoon Between Rival Football Elevens.

Record-Breaking Crowds Invasade the Elm City, Among Them Many Distinguished Visitors.

At Hanover—Brown vs. Dartmouth.
At Middletown—Wesleyan vs. Amherst.
At Ann Arbor—Michigan vs. Minnesota.
At Annapolis, Md.—Western Maryland vs. St. John's College.

At Lewisburg, Pa.—Baltimore Medical College vs. Bucknell.
At Charleston, W. Va.—Washington and Lee vs. University of West Virginia.
At Philadelphia—Cornell Freshmen vs. Penn Freshmen.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 22.—All is in readiness for the annual struggle for supremacy between the varsity football elevens of Yale and Harvard on Yale field this afternoon. The weather is perfect and the students will have dry bleachers to sit upon and watch the game.

Both teams are in the pink of condition and each side is confident of victory, although the odds are 5 to 3 on Yale.

Never before in the history of Yale has there been such a crowd quartered in the Elm City. Every ticket is taxed to its limit and special trains are arriving every hour, leaving their human freight of cheering, yelling football enthusiasts, gaily decorated with gaudy knots of blue or crimson ribbons, the colors of their respective favorites.

Miss Roosevelt There.

Many distinguished visitors are here, among them Senator and Mrs. Chauncey M. Depew, Mr. and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, and their charming guest, Miss Alice Roosevelt, who will cheer on to victory the boys from old Harvard, her father's alma mater. Reginald Vanderbilt and his fiancée, Miss Catherine Neilson, arrived with Senator Depew's party.

On the private car Dixie, came Edwin Gould, and on the Laredo, the Sire brothers, John McCall, of New York, and his family, came on a private car, as did Adrian Iselin, Jr. The latter arrived on one of the trains of the Harvard Club of New York. There being two, each of ten coaches.

One special was leased by the University Club of Boston, and one by the Puritan Club. Another brought the athletic association of Harvard graduates. With today's contest the football season is practically over, except for the Thanksgiving Day games and the great Navy-Army battle in Philadelphia next Saturday. Another of the most prominent games of today is the one at Norfolk between the Indians and the University of Virginia.

Intense Excitement.

Both Yale and Harvard await the beginning of the great football game with suppressed excitement. Not in many years have both elevens and the graduates and students of both universities been so confident of victory. Yale men cannot believe that Harvard can win and the Harvard men talk today of the number of points in their score. That 30,000 spectators will see the game is certain.

The Yale elevens had only fifteen minutes of signal practice yesterday and scamped off the field like colts after the traditional football rites had been observed over the burning of a small pile of football apparel.

The players were permitted to mingle with the crowds at the New Haven House only a few minutes after dinner and then sent to the infirmary to spend the night.

Captain Chadwick said: "The Yale elevens is fit to play a hard game. We will give a good account of ourselves, and we believe we can win, but I won't make that prediction."

Field Coach J. R. Swan said: "Yale is all right and Mike Murphy says the men are in good condition. He knows. We ought to win."

Harvard Men Eager.
